

KEITH FURNISHES
HIS $15,000 BONDTwo Lexington Friends Come
Over, Put Up Bail and Take Him Home With Them

Thomas (Mickey) Keith furnished bond in the sum of $15,000 and was released from the Madison county jail Thursday night. Keith was in jail pending action of the next grand jury on the Wells abduction and attempted assassination charge on which he had examining trial before County Judge W. K. Price.

This bond was furnished by R. L. Welch and C. W. Murphy, of Lexington. They each made affidavit that they are worth over $10,000 each.

When they offered the bond and affidavits, Judge Price decided not to take any chances on them. Before he would order Keith released he telephoned to Tax Commissioner White at Lexington. He wanted to know first hand from the assessor's books the rating of the proposed bondsmen. White gave him assurance that they were well worth the amount of the bonds. So after the affidavits had been signed and sworn to, Keith was a free man until February when circuit court convenes here.

Welch is said to be a prominent ex-saloonist of Lexington. He swore in his affidavit that he is worth $10,000 in real estate over and above his exemption, and $1,000 in personal property. Murphy swore he is worth $15,000 in real estate over and above his exemption and $1,500 in personal property.

Keith's bond was $5,000 on each of the three charges against him, which were abducting Wells without warrant of law, conspiracy and the attempted assassination. He was taken back to Lexington with his friends in their car after the bond matters had been satisfactorily arranged.

Keith has a number of friends here, having served in the army with several local boys.

UNION CITY SCHOOL
PLAY A SUCCESS

One of the most delightful entertainments held in the county by the schools just before their holiday recess, was given by the students of the Union City High School, of which Paris B. Akin is principal, last Tuesday evening. The students very capably presented a rural comedy drama in three acts, entitled "Deacon Dubs." The cast was composed of Misses Verna Dunbar, Mary L. Dunbar, Carolina Broadbent, Elizabeth Berry, Mrs. Della Williams and Messrs. L. B. Ruppard, Andrew Turpin, Jesse Moberly, Ocho Dunbar and Andrew Dunbar. Every member of the cast portrayed their particular part in a capable manner and the play was far above the average amateur performances. The success of the show was due to the untiring efforts of Miss Elizabeth Berry, one of the teachers in the high school, who not only directed the play, but took the part of one of the principal characters, B. Ruppard, who took the part of Deacon Dubs from Sorghum Center, West Virginia, kept the large audience in a continuous roar of laughter. This was the first appearance of Mr. Ruppard upon the stage and many who witnessed the show were of the opinion that he would have little trouble in securing a place with the leading attractions of the season. Quite a neat sum was realized and the audience felt more than pleased for having witnessed the splendid little drama.

Shooting in Laurel

The London Sentinel says that Wednesday night Pearl Coldiron, son of A. J. Coldiron, was shot in the eye, the bullet coming out near the ear. He was brought to the Pennington Infirmary where he is in a critical condition. Coldiron will make no statement as to the shooting, according to county judge C. B. Luker. Judge Luker has issued a warrant for Chester Vaughn, who was Coldiron's companion, and who is suspected of doing the shooting.

NICE HOME BURNS
NEAR UNION CITY

The handsome home of Broadbent brothers near Union City was burned to the ground early in the week. Quite a lot of furniture and household goods, clothes, etc., were destroyed. These are said to have belonged principally to Kavanaugh Broadbent, who will come from Clark county where he has been teaching, to take charge of the Union City high school. He will succeed Prof. Paris B. Akin, who goes to Clark to become County Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Broadbent is said to have had $1,800 insurance, which will not nearly cover the total loss, it is understood.

LITTLE INTEREST IN SENATORIAL RACE

Very little interest seems to be taken in the special state senatorial election which will be held on Saturday, December 24th, in the 29th senatorial district, composed of the counties of Madison, Estill, Jackson, and Rockcastle. The district is usually about 5,000 or 6,000 republican. William L. Wallace is the republican nominee, and R. C. Oldham, the democrat. The usual number of ballots have been printed but it is expected that there will be a very light vote. The polls open at 6 o'clock Saturday morning and close at four in the afternoon.

"BROTHER" TURLEY
ANNOUNCES DEPUTIES

"Brother Turley has made good on his promise that if elected County Clerk he would name a woman as one of his deputies. He even names a Democratic woman—but, as she is his sister, Mrs. C. F. Higgins—of course she voted for him; but those who know her hardly believe she'd have done so if he hadn't been her baby brother.

Anyway, the appointment Mrs. Higgins will undoubtedly prove a very popular one.

Mr. Turley also announces the appointment of Cecil Hendren, of the county as his other deputy. Mr. Hendren is a popular man in his community and his friends believe that he will make a capable assistant to Mr. Turley. They will, of course, begin their duties when Mr. Turley takes the office the first of the year.

Never A Single Auto Tag
Issued In Leslie County

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 23—There has never been an automobile license issued in Leslie county and that fact is responsible for the 18 mile walk from Hazard to Hyden, which R. E. Keown, assistant state inspector and examiner, had to make in order to investigate the county offices of Leslie county. The investigation resulted in State Inspector and Examiner reporting to Gov. Morrow that J. H. Asher, circuit clerk, is indebted to the state in the sum of $683.55.

CENTRAL HOUSES
GO IN POOL, TOOBurley Association To Complete
Work of Obtaining Title To Houses At Once

(City Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Dec. 23—Representing practically a united front the warehousemen of the Central Kentucky district today signed a contract transferring their plants to the control of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association under lease until the corporation provided for in each of the four districts in the state can be organized. Full title will pass to the association June 15th, next, in the case of the warehousemen who desire to sell. Plants not for sale will be leased at a rental of eight percent net to the owners.

Ratification of the biggest real estate deal that has taken place in Kentucky in a number of years is expected to be the chief business of the Board of Directors of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association when it meets at offices of the association in Lexington this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to pass on the contracts which the association is given control of practically all the warehouses in the burley district.

The warehousemen of the central district will meet at the offices of the association, 620 South Broadway, this morning at nine o'clock. Should the same measures of success attend the negotiations in the central district as have marked the meetings in the northern, western and eastern districts of Kentucky and the Ohio and Indiana districts, about 12 warehouses will be in possession of the association tonight.

Estimates of the value of the properties to be taken over range from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000, the latter figure generally being regarded among well informed real estate men who have been consulted as the more probable figure of the two.

75 Houses Now Signed

Maysville, Ky., Dec. 22—When the meeting of the warehousemen of the Eastern Kentucky and Ohio districts closed here Thursday, 75 warehouses had been turned over for the use of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. Of the 75, all but 10 are in Kentucky, Ohio turning over six and Indiana 1.

The meeting was held in the office of the Mason County Farm Bureau and within an hour Aaron Sapero, of California, explained the plan to the warehousemen and read the contract to the association on the three plans by means of which the warehousemen are to be compensated for their property.

Warehouse Manager Ralph M. Barker was introduced by James N. Kehoe, of the executive committee, former Congressman and head of a Maysville bank. He said that the association was ready to do business with the warehousemen and that he did not intend to make a speech, "hoping that nobody else would make one," as it was a time for business.

Mr. Barker presented Mr. Sapero. The contract was read and the various methods of payment for the properties to be taken over, explained.

Only seven houses in the three Kentucky districts visited and the two in Indiana now remain outside the organization.

Of the four options, not a single warehouseman who signed Wednesday chose to lease his property to the association. Of the three options in the method of payment, a great preference was shown for that which involves the payment of one-fourth of the agreed price in cash, and the remainder in variable proportions of preferred stock in the subsidiary warehousing corporation, and in bonds issued against the income of the corporation.

A few warehousemen chose the method of the association due at intervals of two months over a period of two years. The majority of the warehousemen, however, did not indicate a choice but agreed to notify the association of the method chosen in the next few days. It is understood that the bankers of Kentucky

LOTS OF TALK OF

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

J. Franklin Wallace, a prominent attorney of Lexington, was here on legal business a short time Friday morning.

Quite a number here are hoping that Harry Wells, whose three-year term was reduced to six months by Judge Cochran in federal court, may be released in time to spend Christmas with his wife and five little children, who are still in town here. Wells is very hopeful he will be free to spend Christmas with his family. He was convicted of impersonating a government officer.

Sam Gentry and Sam J. Embury, of Lincoln county, were here this week looking after game law violations. The former is now district warden and the latter, ex-district warden, but doing some special work for the government game department. It is understood, both have splendid records in enforcing the game laws. There are really not two more efficient men in this line anywhere in the state.

The Lancaster Record said last week: Mr. Stone W. Norman of Richmond, who is connected with the American Red Cross of that city, was in Lancaster or last Saturday where he filled out the claims for all of Garrard county's disabled service men. Mr. Norman was brought here under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

FORMER MADISONIAN
DIES IN JESSAMINE

Cyrus W. Taylor died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Allen McDowell, in Jessamine county, Mr. Taylor, who was 74 years old, was a native of Madison county, the son of Bartlett and Eliza Peyton Taylor. After reaching manhood he engaged in the mercantile business in Nicholasville. About twenty years ago he and his family moved to Lexington. He was a member of the Christian church.

Mr. Taylor was twice married, his first wife being Miss Ella Horine, of Jessamine county, who died a number of years ago. His second wife was Mrs. Belle Crutchfield, of Lancaster, who died about a year ago.

Mr. Taylor is survived by two children, Mrs. Allen McDowell, of Jessamine county, with whom he had been residing recently, and Mrs. Lila Greenwell, of Lexington, one sister, Mrs. Clarence Egbert, police woman, of Lexington, and three brothers, John C. Taylor, of Lexington, L. Z. Taylor, of Fayette, Idaho, and R. M. Taylor, of Waco, Texas. He also leaves two grandchildren.

Dail Postpones Vote

Dublin, Dec. 23—The Dail Eireann late Thursday rejected by a vote of 74 to 44 a motion to continue the debate on the Anglo-Irish treaty until a vote was taken. The motion emanated from the opponents of the treaty and the vote was regarded as roughly indicating the relative strength for and against the treaty.

The Dail Eireann adjourned its session Thursday evening until January 3.

MARSE HENRY LAID
AWAY IN VAULT

With Private Services Only Until Spring, When Body Will Be Buried In Kentucky

(By Associated Press)
Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 23—With only members of the immediate family present and the hour of service unannounced, the body of the venerable Kentucky journalist, Henry Watterson, who died here yesterday, was placed in a vault today to remain until spring, when it will be taken to Louisville for a final resting place beside his father and mother.

Because of the grief of his mother and sister, and a fear that many persons would attempt to attend the brief and simple service at the mortuary chapel, which preceded the laying away of the body, Henry Watterson, Jr., arranged that the hour of service be not made public and the family requested that there be no floral tributes. They desired the service and everything connected with it to be as simple as possible. Rev. J. T. Boone, pastor of the First Christian church here, of which denomination Mrs. Watterson is a member, officiated.

CLARK COUNTY MAN
GETS 2 YEARS IN JAIL

Winchester, Dec. 23—A record and sentence for Clark county, local officials believe for the state, was given William Ballinger on a charge of assault and battery here late Wednesday when a jury fixed the penalty of two years' confinement at hard labor.

A jury a short time before had heard an action of the Commonwealth against Ballinger in which the defendant was charged with carrying concealed weapons and fixed the penalty at forty days in jail and a fine of $75. Two indictments against Ballinger now await action. One charges him with detaining a female for the purpose of carnal knowledge and the other with pointing a deadly weapon.

The case against Ballinger was based on the testimony of Mrs. Mary Harmon, of near Mina Station, this county, who previously had sworn to a warrant charging him with assault and battery. Mrs. Harmon charged that Ballinger, who resided on her stock farm, had whipped her with a switch on the night of July 4. When deputy sheriffs attempted to serve a bench warrant on Ballinger he fled, refusing to stop even when the officers fired a volley over his head.

On the night of December 8, word was brought to the sheriff's office that Ballinger was at Mrs. Harmon's home. Officers, upon arrival, found there had been a fight at the home of Mrs. Harmon, who is a widow. Ballinger was at the home of his brother-in-law, close by, with his face and breast sprinkled with blood. He claimed he did not know who shot him. It was reported to the officers at the time that Ballinger had gone to Mrs. Harmon's residence and when he found himself locked out, had attempted to force an entrance. Mrs. Harmon's screams drew a crowd, and in the excitement the man was shot, it was said.

When arrested Ballinger was carrying a revolver, which examination showed, had been snapped on four cartridges.

The indictment charging Ballinger with detaining a female was returned, according to officials, after Gracie, the 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Harmon, appeared before the jury and testified that Ballinger had attempted to attack her and her mother, her with death should she ever tell what had taken place.

"Marse Henry"

Words are so futile in an effort to pay tribute to the surpassing genius of "Marse Henry" Waterson, the grand old man of journalism, who passed over the river early Thursday. He was so wonderfully their master himself; so gifted with ability to express himself on any subject in a way all his own and yet always so simply that no ambiguity was ever found in his meaning, and over the richest labe in rhetoric recognized his superlative genius with his art.

Others tell of his service to the Southland, his state and the nation. All is too well known to need encomium from one who followed only afar off in the train of the leader of the profession.

We noted some expressions that he is said to have coined at various times. A headline which the Courier-Journal carried across its front-page telling of the first election of Woodrow Wilson back in 1912, sounded so Waterson-que to us at the time that we've always wondered if he didn't have a hand in its selection at that time. It went:

Sound the bold tocsin
War dogs are howling.
Proud bird of liberty
Screams thru the air.

Some historical phrases which he fathered were:

"The Star-eyed Goddess of Tariff Reform."

"To Hell with the Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs."

"Between the Sherry and the Champagne."

"No Prohibitionist Can Be a Democrat."

"Marching Through a Slaughterhouse to an Open Grave."

The "Star-eyed Goddess" sprang into being about forty years ago, during Mr. Waterson's fight against a protective tariff.

"To Hell with the Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs" was coined early in the world war, before America had entered the strife.

"No Prohibitionist Can Be a Democrat," revealed Mr. Waterson's feeling on the issue of prohibition, which he always opposed with all the vehemence of his nature.

"From a slaughterhouse to an open grave" expressed Mr. Waterson's conviction of the plight of the democratic party after the third nomination of Grover Cleveland for the Presidency in 1892. This time Mr. Waterson's prophecy failed, for Mr. Cleveland was elected.

"It was written between the sherry and the champagne," was the clever way in which Mr. Waterson explained that a political story he had written was not intended to be taken so seriously.

Waterson was the greatest editorial writer in the world, the last of the old school.

Peace to his ashes.

A town and its business men are judged by their newspaper.

Harry Sommers said this the other day: "Two of the best and most progressive small cities in Kentucky are Lebanon and Harrodsburg. We know that by the amount of advertising the home merchants carry in their local papers." Wonder what he thinks of Richmond?

MRS. CREMEANS WAS READY TO GIVE UP

After Being Sick and Miserable Says She Is Now Well and Happy

"When I began taking Tanlac I was a sick and miserable woman; now I am a well and happy one," said Mrs. H. G. Cremeans, 21st street and Jefferson avenue, Huntington, W. Va.

"Two years of indigestion and stomach trouble had almost worn me out and I was almost ready to give up. It was all I could do to keep on my feet. I suffered from headaches, too. Sometimes the pains were just like iron bands drawn around my head and pressing it in, and I was so nervous I dreaded to see nights come, for I knew it meant hours of broken and restless sleep for me."

"Tanlac has done for me what everything else I tried failed to do, and there are no words that can express the gratitude I feel. I'm as well and strong as ever in my life. My sister says I look like a different woman and I feel sure this is the fact, as I certainly feel like a different one."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son, and leading druggists.

The editors of a German paper published in Chicago have been arrested for referring to ex-service men as bums and hoboes.

DAIRY COW HONOR ROLL FOR MONTH

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 23—Sixteen Kentucky cows, including twelve Jerseys and four Holsteins, owned by nine different dairymen, won a place on the November honor roll of the state by producing more than three pounds of butterfat during the two days that they were tested under supervision of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, according to announcement by J. J. Hooper, head of the college dairy department.

A total of 138 cows, including 114 Jerseys, 23 Holsteins, and one Guernsey in 34 herds were tested during the month, according to the announcement.

Perrant Brothers, Dover: The Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, and Allen Dale Farms, Shelbyville, each had three cows on the November list. St. Rose Farm, Springfield, had two, and Hurstbourne Farms, St. Matthews; Hubert Comer, Burlington; R. C. Tway, Louisville; J. E. Riddell, Ludlow, and R. C. Cooke, Trenton, each had one.

The sixteen high-producing cows were divided among eight dairymen of the state, Mason Fayette and Shelby having three each; Washington and Jefferson two each, and Boone, Kenton and Todd one each.

Hurstbourne, Jane, a Jersey owned by the Hurstbourne Farm St. Matthews, headed the list of high producers with a production of 68.2 pounds of milk and 4.56 pounds of butterfat during the two days she was tested. Meadow Holm, a Holstein, owned by St. Rose Farm, Springfield, was second with 120.2 pounds of milk and 4.35 pounds of butterfat during the two days. The same farm owned the third cow on the list, Neva Pontiac Heuferveld, having produced 125 pounds of milk and 4.31 pounds of butterfat during the two days.

The remaining cows together with their owners and butterfat production for the two days test follow: Leader's Silver, Perrant Bros., 4.19 pounds; Homewood DeKol Requeyrlis, Hubert Comer, 3.94 pounds; Baronetti's Golden McEachon, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, 3.71 pounds; Fairy Boy's Welcome, Allen Dale Farms, 3.69 pounds; Herbran's Agricultural Experiment Station 3.53 pounds; Fern's Sterling Jewell, R. C. Tway, 3.49 pounds; Cocotte's Tera B., Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, 3.42 pounds; Perrant's Pink Peach, Perrant Bros., 3.36 pounds; General Cowslip's Beauty, Allen Dale Farms, 3.32 pounds; Fairland Rag Apple Korndyke, J. E. Riddell, 3.21 pounds; Guthrie's Marie's Jean, R. C. Cooke, 3.16 pounds; Rieter's Silver Star, Perrant Bros., 3.14 pounds; Ben Alf's Frolic 3rd, Allen Dale Farms, 3.11 pounds.

Farmer Shoots Chicken Thief After Auto Chase

Stanford, Ky., Dec. 23—When Strother Carter, farmer, saw two buggies hitched near his home late he became suspicious and started an investigation, but both were driven rapidly away. Getting his car, he gave chase and suspicious were confirmed when the occupants of the vehicle began to throw out chickens. He opened fire with a shot gun and the parties left the buggies and escaped in the brush. Later Allen Craig, colored, called upon Dr. W. B. O'Zanmen to have wounds dressed and was arrested. He was shot seriously in the head and his back was peppered with shot. His brother, Givens Craig, also was arrested.

Secretary Mellon will modify the prohibition laws and make it less difficult for hospitals and physicians to get whisky for medical purposes.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Home for Christmas!

Our hearts are all a-flutter, our faces all aglow. The weather doesn't matter, it may rain or it may snow. Dad and mammy, not and hussy, and we babies laugh in glee. At the bustle of the students, listening to the old roof creaking. All going home for Christmas.

And the old folks in the home nest, be it out or mansion wide. Turn open door sounding welcome, on the flood of Christmaside. To kith and kin and sometimes strangers, for this day of merry cheer. Kept in hope and faith and being, this one day in every year. All welcome home for Christmas.

"Tis the birthtime of the Christ-child, we have kept two thousand years. The glory of his life work shining, then a mist of tears. 'Tis the fragrance of the lilies that has come across the sea. 'Tis the love we bear our brother that brings peace to you and me. Till we all go home for Christmas. —M. D. N.

Compton—Gabbard

The marriage of Miss Una Gabbard to Charles W. Compton was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's mother on Estill street Friday afternoon, December 16. After the ceremony the bride and groom motored to Lexington and later returned to Berea where they are spending a few days, but soon expect to go to Virginia. Miss Gabbard is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Gabbard, who has lived in Berea for a long time and has many friends here. Mr. Compton comes from a prominent family in Scott county, Virginia. —Berea Citizen.

Miss Gabbard has a host of friends in Richmond who knew her while she was connected with the Richmond Welch store here, and they extend to her their sincerest and best wishes for perfect happiness and prosperity.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbors.

Mrs. Carrie Long, 140 Tate Creek avenue, Richmond, says: "A few years ago I was down with kidney trouble and for two months I suffered so I couldn't straighten my back or turn over in bed I was so helpless. Every time I moved the pain was so severe I would scream. My limbs and joints were stiff and swollen. I had dizzy, swimming sensation in my head and objects flashed before my eyes. My kidneys acted irregularly and although I tried all sorts of remedies I was not benefited until I was finally told of Doan's Kidney Pills by a friend. Doan's soon cured me of all signs of the trouble and I was able to do my work. My back was well and strong." (Statement given November 20, 1916.)

On March 1, 1921, Mrs. Long added: "It has been a long time since I have needed Doan's Kidney Pills. Should I ever again need a kidney remedy I would certainly take Doan's."

Troops Return Home Except

Ten To Guard Court House Jackson, Ky., Dec. 22—Captain James Holbrook, and 20 Whitesburg infantrymen, after more than a week's futile pursuit of the fugitive Nobles, returned home. The withdrawal of the Whitesburg troops followed a trip to Jackson by Major Ike Wilder, Assistant Adjutant General, who decided that the Breathitt county authorities were the ones to continue the search for the fugitives. Lieut. Harry Wootton and ten members of the Hazard machine gun company, manning two machine guns, will remain here to guard the court and the prisoners.

Centre Works Out On

Palo Alto Gridiron San Francisco, Dec. 22—The Centre College football team indulged in a spirited practice session here today during its stop-over en route to San Diego where it will meet the Arizona eleven next Monday afternoon. The Colonels entrained tonight for Los Angeles, where further workouts will be held.

Coach Moran's men entered into the work at Stanford Stadium Palo Alto, with a zest. They showed no ill effects from their long train ride and apparently had been enlivened by their long rest. Hundreds of followers of football watched the workout and were greatly impressed by the smart team play of the Kentuckians. McMillin and Roberts were the objects of chief interest, and this pair never showed greater advantage.

This morning the players did not have to be urged to get up. All of them were back in the observation car as the train pulled up the Truckee River Canyon every curve giving to view new beauties of the Sierra Nevada, the last great barrier between the Argonaut and his treasure.

Shortly after nine o'clock this morning the train slipped into California. From the snow-capped peaks and rugged canyon party was led into valleys and glades of verdure and fertility.

Five and Half Million

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—th sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold. de

Young Man To See

Mother After 25 Years

Winchester, Ky., Dec. 23—Russell L. Farmer, 26 years old, of Charlestown, Ill., passed through Winchester today en route to Knowlton, Powell county, where he will spend the Christmas holidays with his mother, Mrs. Nina Johnson, who he does not remember and who has not seen her son since he was one year old. The parents of the young man became estranged when he was an infant, and he recently got in touch with his mother, whom he located thru an aunt a short time ago.

Narrow Escape of Six

From Death In Flames

Versailles, Ky., Dec. 23—Awakened by the noise of falling timbers, Spencer Mattingly, of Troy, found the stairways barred by flames. He rescued his four children and Mrs. Mattingly by carrying them singly to the porch and down a ladder. The building collapsed a moment after the last was removed. Personal jewelry and their clothing was burned in the home. The store, close by, was saved. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

Baxter Hears Keith Case
Commonwealth Attorney W. J. Baxter came over from Nicholasville Wednesday for the examining trial of Mickey Keith, which was held before Judge Price in county court and resulted in his being held over to the grand jury on $15,000 bond. The Wells abduction and attempted murder cases promise to come up before the term of court here in February and to be the biggest criminal cases that perhaps will come before Mr. Baxter when he assumes office as commonwealth attorney; in fact, they may be the most interesting cases of such character that may come before him in a long time.

Chamberlain's Tablets
These tablets are intended especially for indigestion and constipation. They tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They are gentle on the liver and bowels, thereby restoring the stomach and bowels to a healthy condition. When you feel dull, stupid and constipated, give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with their effect. dec

WEAK, RUN-DOWN, UNDER-WEIGHT MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Of Richmond Do Not Need Medicine—But a Balanced Diet

Such conditions are usually caused by malnutrition. Malnutrition is the failure of the food we eat daily to properly nourish our bodies. It lacks the necessary growth-promoting elements called Vitamins.

There are plenty of Vitamins preparations appearing on the market—but only a scientifically produce should be used.

At Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, there has been perfected by Dr. Philip B. Hawk, Professor of Physiological Chemistry, after months of clinical experimenting an active food balancer, in tablet form, which contains the vitamins of Yeast, Rice Eggs, Milk, with Beef Protein, experts of Jefferson Medical College, and Iron. It is very palatable, Philadelphia.

If any run-down, under weight man, woman or child, will take SUSTO as prescribed three times a day for a month we guarantee they will feel better, stronger and weigh more than they have for a long time. This will only cost them about $3.00—10c a day—and they would not take $300 for the benefit received.

Here, therefore is the first opportunity offered to the people of Richmond who need strength and vitality, are under weight, run-down, anaemic, who have undernourished children or feeble old people, to call at Perry's Drug Store and get a guaranteed strength and body-builder that has been approved by a nutritional expert of one of the greatest Medical Colleges.

We wish everyone in this community a very Merry Christmas and hope the New Year has lots of good things in store for them.

We can think of no better way for any Parent to celebrate this Christmas than by giving each of their children a bank account.

Do this and see how many happy Kiddes there will be in this community. We will welcome their account no matter how small it may be.

FORMER MADISON EDUCATOR IS DEAD

Prof. Thomas P. Throop Had Long and Honored Career
In Public School Work

Friends here regretted to hear of the death at Jackson last week of Prof. Thomas P. Throop, who once taught in Madison. The Corbin Times had mention of his death which will be read with interest here. It said:

Word has just been received that Prof. Thomas P. Throop is dead. He was born at Shelbyville, Ky., March 2, 1853. At the age of twenty-one he was married to Miss Pickett Lindsay, of Mt. Sterling, who lived only a few months. Three years later he married Miss Frances Campbell, of Covington, who preceded him to the grave fifteen years ago. To this union were born seven children, all of whom survive.

For 44 years Prof. Throop taught in the public schools of Kentucky. His outstanding work was the equipping of young men for professional work; through his efforts scores of young men entered the ministry, became doctors and lawyers. Leading men in these professions all over the state say that his teachings awakened them to ambition and developed their latent powers.

For years he was the head of a school in Madison county and from this school alone went the men who became physicians, one who is a successful minister in a northern state, two studied law, and fifty went as teachers, and so thorough had been their training that it marked a trustee efficient if he called a Throop-trained teacher.

Wherever his work called him, he at once united with the M. E. church, South, and there, teaching in the Sunday school, led the young people in all their activities, consistently living the Christian life, he upheld the minister's hands and was truly his assistant. He was a charter member of the Park Avenue M. E. church, Lexington, and often filled that pulpit.

But it was in the home the harm of the man was most felt.

Though a deep scholar, endowed with all the social graces, he found no task too menial if it contributed to the comfort of his family or a guest. His ready humor lightened tedious hours like sunshine a winter's day. His daughter said of him: "He is so much more than father, he is a wise counsellor, inspiring friend, and understanding pal."

On the recommendation of a former Madison county pupil he came to Corbin in 1915 as Superintendent of Schools and here he was stricken with asthma so continuous and severe as to render him helpless. For eight years he sought relief, traveling to the far west and spending whole years in hospitals, permitting specialists to experiment with him, month after month, hoping something might be learned of the underlying cause of that dread disease, and that he and through him all like sufferers might be benefited.

In his youth he wrote for publications and during the long years of invalidism he brightened the lives of his children and friends with poem-letters, radiant and glowing, each a gem of faultless English, a lyric of love and hope.

Early in October of this year he left a Dayton, O., hospital for a visit with his daughter, Lily, who is now teaching at Jackson, Ky. The trip was too much for his frail body and there on the 18th he fell asleep, aged 68 years. Thy converse drew us with delight. The men of youth and riper years: The feeble soul a haunt of fears. Forgot his weakness in thy sight.

On this the loyal hearted hung. The proud was half-disarmed of pride: Nor eared the serpent at thy side.

To flicker with his double tongue. The stern were mild when thou wast by.

The dippant put himself to school: And heard thee, and the brazen fool Was softened, and he knew not why.

While we, thy nearest, sat apart, And felt thy triumph was as ours: And loved thee more than they were yours.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitaker visited his mother, Mrs. Aaron Whitaker, in Richmond Saturday. Several of the farmers in this vicinity have their tobacco stripped and are ready for the early market.

The Christmas Store

A CHRISTMAS SONG

Down in the toe of every Christmas stocking, waiting to pop out with ruddy red apple and the odd shaped bundle (which one always finds in the toe of any Christmas stocking, you know) is a song. It is the song that came into the world to greet the Three Wise Men—the song, Tiny Tim heard—the song you will hear too, if you pay the inner ears of your heart in tune. For it is a Christmas song—its message is "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men." All the year it hums its rhythm into the warp and woof of living—but at Christmas time it exuberantly flings its melody broadcast into the world. So, hidden away in the toe of your Christmas stocking there is the song. So, hold it fast—this lovable, beautiful, livable Christmas song!
